Brent Wadden @Almine Rech Gallery

For his first exhibition at the Almine Rech Gallery in Brussels titled 'The Decline' Brent Wadden inspired himself from the movie 'The Decline of Western Civilization'. The new paintings from his ongoing "Alignment" series embody the counterculture rejectionist spirit documented by Penelope Spheeris for her 1981 chronicle of Los Angeles's punk scene in the late 1970s and early 1980s. This rather one of a kind exhibition is really worth a visit if you are interested in discovering all the side of the punk movement woven into artistic objects by Brent Wadden.
