

Wet Paint: New York Galleries Open Miami Outposts for Zombie Art Basel, a Shakeup at the Top of Frieze, & More Juicy Art-World Gossip

Nate Freeman
November 13, 2020

 The glorious new cast members of the Gossip Girl reboot reclaiming their rightful place on planet earth by lounging on the steps of the Met—you know you love me, xoxo  Glenn Ligon and Whitney curator Scott Rothkopf sharing pizza at il Buco Alimentari and Vineria, the Great Jones boîte where David Zwirner is a partner  Indochine welcoming regulars back on its first night open in months—among those present were Paul de Froment, a director at Almine Rech, which opens a Vivian Springford show today in its uptown New York space  A number of artists and collectors at Thursday's opening at Bushwick gallery Clearing, which unveiled new work by Korakrit Arunanondchai and Loïc Raguénès  An alert on Citizen that doesn't appear to just be a metaphor ***